

SuperTrucks, Trans-Am come to Sears Pt. Oct. 7

SONOMA, CA—Sears Point Raceway will host one of the busiest race days in its 27-year history Saturday, Oct. 7, when the exciting new NASCAR SuperTrucks, thunderous Winston West stock cars and potent Trans-Ams come roaring into the Wine Country for a star-studded "Subway SuperTruck Saturday."

The fall racing triple header on Sears Point's 2.52-mile road course will feature actor/racer Tim Allen in a souped up World Challenge Saleen Mustang and former NFL football coach turned SuperTruck racer Jerry Glanville.

Allen has already made arrangements to sponsor the beverages at the after-event race worker

One of the bright emerging stars in the American City Racing League is Jeff Glenn, 23, of Pleasanton, CA. Glenn drove for team San Jose in a Swift DB-5 in his first full ACRL season. --Cheryl Glenn photo.

Ron Shuman regains his old form at Arizona's Manzanita

Mike Stover (50) is on to the cubic inch limit